FOOTBALL PROSPECTS AT NORTH CAROLINA

The University of North Carolina's 1939 football team will be the most colorful and thrill-producing Tar Heel outfit in a decade, unless present plans go awry.

Ever since he came here four years ago Head Coach Ray Wolf has been trying to adapt the Tar Heels to the wide-open type of football so popular at his Alma Mater, Texas Christian, and other institutions of the Southwest.

Coach Wolf thinks this may be the year for the Tar Heels to toss the ball around a la Sammy Baugh and Davey O'Brien. He frankly admits he has the best assortment of passers and receivers he has ever had since coming to North Carolina.

George Stirnweiss and "Sweet" Jim Lalanne will do most of the pitching, and he has a number of good catchers in boys like Halfback George Radman, whose catch over the goal line won the NYU game last year, and ends like Paul Severin, Jim Mallory, and Chuck Kline.

Ray Wolf won't go so far as to admit he's cooking up an aerial circus--he's not sure that a football team should be called a circus anyway, but sports writers watching early season practices insist that's exactly what the genial Texan is doing.

Close observers expect the Tar Heels to turn out a team that will prove a worthy successor to the 1938 outfit which won six games, lost two, and tied one.

The Tar Heels, in fact, may be a little stronger this year in several departments. There are, for instance, a few more reserves but most of them lack the test of varsity fire. The team as a whole should have more speed, and the passing should be better.

But that doesn't necessarily mean the team should be expected to win as many games as last year. For in practically every instance the opposition will be tougher.

North Carolina lost by graduation eight lettermen: George Watson, one of the best blocking backs the South has produced; Steve Maronic, who made several All-America selections at tackle; Horace Palmer and Carl Peiffer, ends; Bob Adam, center; Jack Kraynick, fullback; Tony Cernugel, halfback, and Wallace Winborne, quarterback. Five of these--Maronic, Palmer, Adam, Watson, and Kraynick--were regulars last year.

On the debit side also must be noted other losses since stock was taken after the winter off-season drills. Dan Desich, who played a good deal and improved rapidly last season and had been counted upon as a sure starter at right guard, definitely will not be available this fall as the result of a back injury sustained in an automobile wreck last spring.

Other losses since off-season drills include Walter Palanske, a promising junior prospect at tackle, who was lured from the campus by professional boxing just before examination time last spring; and Jim Leaming, a highly rated sophomore tackle, who failed to hurdle his studies.

The Tar Heels have 12 lettermen as a nucleus for the 1939 team.

Strong at Ends

Strongest part of the 1939 team likely will be at the end sectors. There are available Paul Severin, Jim Mallory and Chuck Kline, lettermen; Steve Forrest and Frank Doty, reserves, who have shown much improvement; Fred Stallings, Stewart Richardson, Pinky Elliott, Jack Connelly, and Francis Gugert, sophomores. Severin may land the starting left end assignment with Kline and Mallory leading the fight for the right flank post. A senior, Kline may have the inside track as starter.

Kimball and White at Tackles?

Gates Kimball, a 200-pounder, is slated to hold down right tackle again, with Dick Sieck, a reserve, and Gwynn Nowell, a sophomore, as other leading candidates. Sophomore Dick White, another 200-pounder, and Christian Siewers, a reserve, will be battling for Maronic's vacated left tackle position, along with George Spransy, a Durham boy, and others.

Woodson and Slagle at Guard?

Chuck Slagle, who alternated with Desich last season, will probably get first call at right guard, but he will be pushed hard by Joe Brantley, a Greensboro boy, a reserve center in 1938 who has shown more promise since being converted to guard play, and Bill Faircloth, Allen Patterson and Claude Meyers, sophomores.

Co-Captain Jim Woodson is slated to be chief starter at left guard. Outstanding understudies will be Bill Blalock, a reserve; and two sophomores, Bob Stoinoff and Frank Saylor.

Smith Slated for Center

Bob Smith, who did such a good job alternating with Bob Adam at center last season, appears to bo well qualified to hold down the pivot assignment. He is also an excellent placekicker. He will be understudied by George Ralston, a reserve, and Carl Suntheimer, Red Benton, and Jack Jones, sophomores.

Stirnweiss and Lalanne at Quarter

The leading candidates for quarterback are George Stirnweiss, All-Southern last fall; Jim Lalanne, his reliable first lieutenant; and Frank O'Hare, a triple-threater, who turned in several fine performances as a freshman last season. All three are excellent passers.

Stirnweiss and Lalanne may work some together in the same backfield. In that event Stirnweiss will move over to a halfback spot.

Halfback Prospects

George Radman, a two-year letterman, will again be at left half. An excellent runner, pass receiver, and blocker, he was high scorer last fall with 36 points. Radman's chief assistant will be Don Baker, probably the fastest back on the squad and a good pass receiver.

Mike Bobbitt, Greensboro boy, is being groomed to fill the shoes of George Watson at right half. In addition to his blocking, Bobbitt excels in broken field running and pass receiving. His chief competition will come from Roy Lee Connor, a transfer from Boiling Springs Junior College. Another good prospect for this spot is Charlie Baker, a Greensboro boy.

Sid Sadoff at Fullback

Letterman Sid Sadoff, who alternated with Jack Kraynick last fall, has the jump on the other candidates for first call at fullback. Sadoff, however, is expected to get plenty of competition from Harry Dunkle, a sophomore, whose forte is kicking. Dunkle also blocks and runs well. Charlie Idol, the High Point boy who played halfback last year, has been shifted to his old position at fullback where he is showing more promise.

####

They are Chuck Kline, Paul Brewin, and Jim Bailey, under Jerry Kimball and Ro-Abernathy, tackles; Co-Captain Jim Nielsen and Chuck Slagle, guards; Don Smith, center; Co-Captain Jerry Brimmeier and Jim (Sweet) Wilcox, quarterbacks; Jerry Bak-

Strong at Ends

Personnel part of the 1950 team likely will be the end corners there are possibly Paul Brewin, Jim Bailey and Chuck Kline, lettermen. Both Kimball and Jerry Jerry, reserves, who have shown much improvement. Fred Hallinan, Seneca lettermen, Jerry Fillipi, Tech Commodity, and Preston Dupre, sophomore Bonita may land the starting jail and competition with Kline and Bailey landing the jobs for the final first post. A month, Kline may have the looking track at start.

Jerry Kimball and Jerry Fillipi

Jerry Kimball, a 170-pounder, is slated to land first team tackle spot, with Chuck Slagle, a veteran, and Jerry Dowell, a sophomore, as other starting candidates. Bonita more Dick Smith, regular fullback, and Jerry Nielsen Steuben, a reserve, will be fighting for Kimball's vacated left tackle position, along with Junior Shreves, a Durham boy, and others.

Tackles and Ends at Guard

Chuck Slagle, who alternated with Jerry's last season, will probably not finish at right guard, but he will be pushed hard by Joe Swanlin, a Cleveland boy, reserve caddy in 1949 who has shown much promise since being converted to fullback, and Bill Faircloth, Allen Patterson and Jimmy Myers, sophomores.

Co-Captain Jim Nielsen is slated to be other starter at this guard. Competition understudies will be Bill Slagle, a veteran, and two sophomores, Joe Antcliff and Frank Taylor.

Smith Slated for Center

Pat Smith, who will make a good job starting for pitt Tom Mack at center last season, appears to be well qualified to hold down the first assignment. He is also an excellent placekicker. He will be threatened by Darrow Nelson, a veteran, and Carl Smi-thimer, Red Jordan, and Jerry Jones, sophomores.

Strengths and Injuries at Backs

The leading candidates for quarterback are Jerry O'Neal, Jack Sullivan, Jack Bell, Pete Palermo, Mike Fitzpatrick and Jerry Jones.

Who burned in several fine performances as a freshman last season. All three are callout passers.

Brimmeier and Nielsen may work some together at the same position. It used Fitzpatrick will move over to a backfield spot.

Fullback Prospects

George Nadeau, a pre-game favorite, will begin to at left side in regular combat, plus running, and placker, he was also score last fall with 36 points.

chief reserves will be Don Jones, probably the fastest back on the squad and a pass receiver.

Mike Bonilla, sophomore lad, is being groomed to fill the shoes of Junior Tom-at right half. In addition to his blocking, Bonilla excels in kicking field goals and pass receiving. The other competition will come from Jay Jay Jones, a freshman from Bonita, Sprinkle Junior College, Antone Cook, reserve for this post is Chuck Baker, a freshman boy.

Big Ended at Full

Letterman Bud Smith, who alternated with Jack Sullivan last fall, has two of the other candidates for first call at fullback post. Newton, a sophomore, is plenty of competition from Jerry Dowell, a sophomore, whose form is pleasing. Jim Slagle Clovis and Jerry Wolf. Charlie Tidol, the 6'4" 220 pound sophomore lineman year, has been shifted to his old position at tailback where he is showing more ise.

TRADITIONAL FOOTBALL OPPONENTS

The University of North Carolina's chief football rival is Duke-at least in the minds of the present undergraduates and modern alumni. But many of the old grads of 15 years ago and beyond that period like to think of Virginia as Carolina's traditional opponent.

From 1892 until 1927 the Cavaliers of Virginia took the measure of their Tar Heel rivals in most games. Since that date, however, Carolina has lost only one game to the Cavaliers. The rivalry between Duke and Carolina is further stimulated by the fact that the two universities are only 10 miles apart.

Series records through 1938:

With Duke--U.N.C. won 13, lost 9, tied 2, pctg. .591. Points scored by U.N.C. 272, by Duke 157; first game 1888.

With N.C. State--U.N.C. won 23, lost 3, tied 6, pctg. .885. Points scored by U.N.C. 545, by N.C. State 117, first game: 1894.

With Virginia--U.N.C. won 19, lost 21, tied 3, pctg. .475. Points scored by U.N.C. 518, by Virginia 528.

TRADITIONAL RIVALRY CONTINUES

The University of North Carolina's chief football rival is Duke--or least in the minds of the present undergraduates and recent alumni. But many of the old grads of 15 years ago and beyond that period like to think of Virginia as Carolina's traditional opponent.

From 1892 until 1947 the Cavaliers of Virginia took the measure of their Tar Heel rivals in most years. Since that date, however, Carolina has left only one game to the Cavaliers. The rivalry between Duke and Carolina is further stimulated by the fact that the two universities are only 10 miles apart.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF HEAD COACH RAYMOND (BEAR) WOLF

Winner 81 per cent of the time is the impressive record of Raymond (Bear) Wolf who this fall begins his fourth season as Head Football Coach at the University of North Carolina. During the last three seasons his teams have won 21 games, lost 5, and tied 2.

An enthusiastic exponent of offensive football and the aerial game, which he played and taught down in Texas, Ray Wolf came to the University of North Carolina from Texas Christian University in the spring of 1936 as successor to Carl Snavely, who had resigned to go to Cornell.

Off To Fine Start

Coach Wolf made a good impression right from the start. Taking over a squad stripped of much of the talent which carried the Tar Heels high in the national picture in 1935 under Coach Snavely, Coach Wolf moulded another strong eleven which went through a strenuous 10-game schedule with the loss of only two games.

In 1937 he piloted the Tar Heels to the State and Southern Conference championships, feature of which was a 14-6 victory over Duke. Only loss that year was a 14-0 setback at the hands of the Fordham Rams.

Coach Wolf did a good job last year despite the loss of one All-American and five All-Southern performers from the 1937 champions. His 1938 charges won six games, lost 2, and tied 1. One of the losses was a heart-breaking 17-14 decision to Tulane in a game which very well could have gone either way. High spot of the 1938 season was a surprise scoreless tie with Fordham.

With six of the 1938 regulars gone this year, Coach Wolf faces another difficult task.

There's no sham or put on about Ray Wolf. He's as plain as an old shoe but is forceful and direct in his approach. He looks straight at you when he's talking, and there's frequently a twinkle in his hazel eyes. He is blessed with an ingratiating personality, a keen sense of humor, and the ability to tell good stories.

He stands 5 feet 11, weighs around 200, has a broad high forehead, and is almost bald.

He's what newspapermen often refer to as a "regular fellow." Sports writers are among his strongest admirers.

Why they call him "Bear" he himself professes not to know.

He is a hard worker, but is a leader as well as a driver. In practice sessions he frequently lines up with his men and shows them how the plays are run.

Uses Modified Warner System

Coach Wolf uses a modified Warner system which calls for double-wing, single-wing, and punt formations.

Coach Wolf was born in Chicago 35 years ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Wolf, now residents of Kansas City, where Mr. Wolf is manager of the Kansas City branch of Libby, McNeill and Libby. Four years after Ray Wolf came into the world his family moved to Texas, and until he came to Chapel Hill he had lived in Texas ever since except for three years he spent with his parents in South America during his early teens.

Coach Wolf prepped at Fort Worth High School in Texas where he won letters in four sports---football, basketball, baseball and track. He can still outrun many members of the football squad.

From Fort Worth he entered Texas Christian University where he played guard in football and was selected on All-Conference teams for two years. In baseball, which he captained in his last year, he was also named on the All-Conference team.

Following graduation in 1927, he took a turn at professional baseball with the Cincinnati Reds. During his second season a trick knee went bad, and he had to give up that sport.

Began Coaching in 1927

In the fall of 1927 he began his coaching career under Dutch Meyer, who was then head freshman mentor, Francis Schmidt, now of Ohio State, being head varsity coach at the time. In 1929 he was promoted to varsity line coach, and when Coach Meyer was placed in charge of the varsity in 1934 Coach Wolf was appointed Athletic Director in addition to his duties as varsity line coach and head baseball coach.

[illegible] Bair Plan

Coach Bair made a good impression right from the start. During [illegible] a squad averaged at least of the talent which carried the Horned Frogs to national picture in 1938 under Coach Schulz. Coach Bair studied carefully [illegible] three which went through a strenuous 30-game schedule with the loss of only two games.

In 1937 he piloted the Fat Stock to the Sugar Bowl Encounter Christmas Confetti, Fortune of which was a lose victory over Texas Christian [illegible] to a 3-0 victory at the hands of the Horned Toads.

Coach Bair did a good job last year despite the loss of [illegible] and five All-Southern performers from the 1937 championship. The 1938 campaign was good, just 5, and that is. One of the losses was a [illegible] to Indiana in a game which very well could have gone either way. Bair got [illegible] 1938 squad and a morale problem like with Jordan.

With one of the 1938 regulars [illegible] Coach Bair [illegible] difficult task.

[illegible] Football Career

Coach Bair [illegible] football [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

An index of his coaching ability, from 1929, when he became varsity line coach at Texas Christian University through the 1936 season, 16 linemen coached by him were placed on the All-Southwestern Conference teams. In 1932 Johnny Vaught, a guard, and now one of North Carolina's two line coaches, was placed on All-America. And in 1934 and 1935 Darrell Lester, a center, was placed on All-America. At North Carolina in 1937, Andy Bershak, end, made most of the All-America elevens. Five members of his 1937 squad were All-Southerns and in 1938 Steve Maronic, tackle, was named on a number of All-America selections. Maronic and George Stirnweiss were also placed on a majority of the recognized All-Southern teams.

That gives you a brief picture of Coach Wolf's coaching career. As for what he does when not working--his hobbies are fishing and golf, but he doesn't have much time for either during the football season.

Introducing Mrs. Wolf

Coach Wolf married a classmate at Texas Christian, the former Miss Martha May Morris, of Graham, Tex., who was voted one of the two most representative girls in her senior class. She was named sponsor for the football team one year. She is an ardent football fan and never misses a game played by a Wolf-coached team.

WILLIAM F. LANGE, VARSITY BACKFIELD COACH

Graduated Wittenberg College 1921. Took master's degree in physical education at Columbia University. At Wittenberg he played on an undefeated football team for three years and was named All-Ohio in both football and basketball for two years. Was football and basketball coach and Athletic Director at Muskingum College, Ohio, for 13 years. Came to U.N.C. in 1936. Appointed head basketball coach last spring to succeed Walter Skidmore, who had resigned. Is married. Two children.

CHARLES (CHUCK) ERICKSON, VARSITY BACKFIELD COACH

Graduated University of North Carolina 1931. Was an outstanding halfback on Tar Heel teams from 1928 through 1930. Holds B.S. degree in Civil Engineering. During student days at North Carolina he served as vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the University chapter of the American Society of Chemical Engineers. Also head golf coach. His 1937 team was one of best ever turned out at Carolina. In 1937 he helped Bill Lange coach the varsity backfield and last fall he was appointed head freshman coach. Returned to varsity coaching staff this fall when Jim Tatum was appointed head freshman coach. Is Unmarried.

JOHNNY VAUGHT, VARSITY LINE COACH

Graduated Texas Christian University 1933. Unanimous choice for guard on All-America football teams of 1932. Rated by many as greatest guard in Southwestern Conference history. Coached at North Side High School in Fort Worth, Texas, for two years. Then went into electrical supply business in Houston, Texas. Came to U.N.C. with Wolf in 1936. Is unmarried.

HENRY BARTOS, VARSITY LINE COACH

Played at University of North Carolina 1935-36-37 and was unanimous choice All-Southern tackle in 1937. Played part of 1938 season with the Washington Red Skins, National professional champions in 1937. Later went to Hazleton, Pa., a farm of the Red Skins. Returned to University last January to complete work on Physical Education degree. Added to Carolina varsity coaching in summer. Is unmarried.

JIM TATUM, HEAD FRESHMAN COACH

Graduated University of North Carolina 1935. One of outstanding linemen on 1934 Carolina team which won State and Southern Conference championships. Was placed on honorary All-Southern teams in 1934 and was considered one of nation's finest tackles. Was regular on Tar Heel baseball teams for three seasons, alternating at catching and outfield positions. After serving as assistant football and baseball coach at Carolina, Tatum went with Carl Snavely to Cornell in 1936 and held position of line coach there for two seasons. Was also head baseball coach at Cornell for three years. His 1939 Cornell baseball team won nine consecutive games and tied Harvard for the Eastern Intercollegiate League championship, turning in the best record at Cornell in five years. Is married

P.H. QUINLAN, HEAD TRAINER

Graduated Springfield, B.P.E./ Has been collegiate wrestling and boxing coach 19 years. Coached National Collegiate championship Wrestling team, 1919. Was selected as Olympic Wrestling Coach, 1924. Has coached and served as trainer at U.N.C. for 14 years. Is married. One child.

ROBERT A. FETZER, ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Loved and respected by all who know him, Robert Allison Fetzer embodies the finest attributes of coach, gentleman, and scholar. Affectionately known as Coach Bob, he has long been recognized as the dean of Southern track.

When he came to Carolina in 1921 as Director of Athletics, Coach Bob brought three college degrees, a reputation as a protagonist of the best in athletics, and invaluable experience gained at Davidson, Clemson, N.C. State and Woodberry Forest School, institutions in which he had taught and coached.

His record at Carolina speaks for itself. He has done more than any other man to promote track and field sports and intramural athletics in the South.

Track teams coached by him at Carolina have lost only two dual meets in seventeen years to Southern Conference opponents and only six to intersectional foes. They have won seven outdoor and six indoor Southern Conference titles and 15 state championships. The 1939 Tar Heel team won both Indoor and Outdoor Southern Conference championships and went through the season undefeated.

Under the capable direction of Coach Bob and the late Charles T. Woollen, graduate manager for 32 years, all of Carolina's athletic teams have made remarkable records. To cite one example, they have won 42 out of a possible 129 Southern Conference championships---a record that probably cannot be equalled in the nation.

These years have witnessed a marvelous growth, too, in the University's athletic plant. A dream that Coach Bob had cherished for years, the vision of a day when there would be ample facilities to enable every student to participate in some form of sport, came true in May, 1936, when at the Carolina-Navy track meet Fetzer Field was formally dedicated. It was mainly through his tireless efforts that funds for the construction of this large track layout and football and intramural fields were secured.

In recognition of his interest and achievements he has served by appointment for several years as Chairman of the Southern Conference track Committee and as a member of the N.C.A.A. Track and Field Rules Committee.

To his duties as athletic director and track and football coach were added the responsibility of the Department of Physical Education in 1936 when President Graham appointed him head of that newly organized division of the University.

Coach Bob's success should not be judged, however, merely in terms of victories. He has always insisted that the athletic field is purely a laboratory of character building, that the qualities of true sportsmanship, a competitive spirit that inspires an athlete to give the best he has, and a determination to do a little better the next time, are far more important than victories.

GEORGE E. (BO) SHEPARD, ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Graduated University of North Carolina 1929. Was freshman basketball coach at Carolina 1929-31. Appointed varsity basketball coach in 1932 and served in that capacity through the 1935 season. His 1934 team won State title and his 1935 outfit won both State and Southern Conference championships. Resigned after 1935 season to assume duties of Assistant Athletic Director. Has also served as freshman basketball coach for past two seasons. Is Secretary Athletic Council.

WILSON, JOHN (PIANO) — JAZZ — ERA — 1920 — SWING BAND — CHARLOTTE, N.C.

Pianist Charles "Big" Wilson, three-time Grammy winner and composer of the hit song "Moonlight Serenade," was born in Charlotte, North Carolina, on January 15, 1920. He began playing piano at age 5 and by 12 was performing in local dance bands. Wilson graduated from Charlotte Central High School in 1938 and attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill for one year before leaving to pursue music full-time. He formed his own big band in 1941 and had a string of hits including "Moonlight Serenade," "Starlight Waltz," and "Piano Rhapsody." Wilson served in the Army Air Forces during World War II, leading a service band that entertained troops overseas. After the war, he reformed his band but struggled to maintain success in the changing musical landscape. He disbanded in 1952 and worked as a solo pianist and accompanist for singers like Ella Fitzgerald and Sarah Vaughan. Wilson died of a heart attack on March 3, 1963, in Charlotte, at the age of 43.

FAIRCLOTH, MARY — PIANO — JAZZ — 1930 — MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA — ARTHRITIS, 1985

Pianist Mary Faircloth (1930–1985) was a jazz musician from Montgomery, Alabama, who performed professionally from the 1950s through the 1970s. She played piano in local clubs and restaurants, often leading her own trio. Faircloth was known for her smooth, melodic style and her ability to accompany singers. She retired from performing in the late 1970s due to arthritis in her hands and died in 1985.

STOLBERT, MAX — DRUMS — ROCK — 1948 — CHEYENNE, WYOMING — MOTORCYCLE CRASH, 1969

Drummer Max Stolberg (1948–1969) was a rising rock musician from Cheyenne, Wyoming, who played with several local bands in the late 1960s. He was known for his energetic stage presence and his ability to keep a steady beat. Stolberg died in a motorcycle accident on his way to a gig in Denver, Colorado, on August 12, 1969, at the age of 21. He was survived by his parents and a younger brother.

MCNEELY, JO — SINGER — JAZZ — 1925 — BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS — LIVED TO BE 101

Singer Jo McNeely (1925–2026) was a jazz vocalist who performed in Boston clubs from the 1940s through the 1960s. She was known for her smooth, sophisticated style and her interpretations of standards by composers like Cole Porter and Irving Berlin. McNeely retired from performing in 1970 and lived a quiet life in Boston's Beacon Hill neighborhood. She died in 2026 at the age of 101, making her one of the longest-lived musicians in the city's history.
